

CODE OF ETHICS

Building Managers International

1. Members shall conduct themselves in a manner that demonstrates a high degree of professionalism at all times.
2. Members shall not engage in any activity that is not in the best interest of their employer, their associates or the association.
3. Members shall not make oral or written statements of a derogatory nature concerning other members.
4. Members shall not use their membership or accreditation in any manner that will adversely affect the objectives or high standards of the association.
5. Members shall not engage in any relationship, association or activity that might be interpreted as a conflict of interest or expose an employer or member to embarrassment in any way.
6. Members shall not solicit or receive gratuitous compensation in the form of a rebate or "kickback" from persons conducting business with them or their employer.
7. Members shall not offer or disclose information of a confidential nature concerning the business or personal affairs of their employer, residents or members of the association.
8. Members shall not offer their services to the employer of another member by basing their solicitation on the inducement of reduced compensation.
9. Members shall not solicit the services of any person known to be employed by another member without prior approval of the other member.
10. Members shall exercise due professional care in the performance of their service at all times.